(v) The candidate's publication record.

(vi) The recommendation of the Dean of Faculty of Graduate and Postdoctoral Affairs and/or the Faculty Dean.
5. Policy on Senate Medals for Outstanding Graduate Work

1. At its meeting of 27 March 1992, Senate approved the establishment of Senate Medals to recognize excellence in graduate work.

2. As at the undergraduate level, the status of the Senate Medals for Outstanding Graduate Work is one level immediately below that of the (existing) two University Medals for Outstanding Graduate Work (Doctoral and Master's). The Senate Medals are meant to recognize runners-up for the University Medals.

3. There are two categories of Senate Medals at the graduate level:

   a. Type A: for students in programs with research requirements, such as a thesis, research essay or project and;

   b. Type B: for students in course-work only Masters degrees.

4. There are to be two Senate Medals of Type A (one Doctoral, one Master's) for each of the following major disciplinary areas: (i) Arts and Social Sciences, (ii) Engineering, Architecture and Industrial Design (iii) Science and Computer Science, (iv) Public Affairs and (v) Business. When merited the Committee may recommend additional candidates for Senate Medals beyond the specified number.

5. There are two Senate Medals at the Masters level of Type B for the University. The minimum requirement is a CGPA of at least 11.5 and a strong recommendation form the department.

6. As with the two University Medals, all Senate Medals will be available for award at each of the Spring and Fall Convocations (February graduates being counted as part of Spring graduates), and be awarded only when merited in the opinion of the Senate Committee on Medals and Prizes and Senate.

7. Given that the Senate Medals are meant to recognize runners-up for the University Medals, the criteria for the Senate Medals are identical to those for the University Medals (q.v.).

8. The Senate Medals shall be available for award for the first time at Spring Convocation 1992.

9. The candidate recommended to Senate by the Senate Committee on Medals and Prizes for the Governor-General's Medal at the Graduate Level (awarded annually at the Fall Convocation) shall continue to be chosen from among the February, Spring and Fall candidates judged to be University (as against Senate) Medal-level material.
