

Title: To Infinity and Beyond: Exploring Opportunities and Making the Most of your Limitless Journey

Theme: Opportunity Exploration

Type of Presentation: Collaborative Conversations

Abstract: “To Infinity and Beyond”. Straight from a childhood favourite movie, this phrase applies to all aspects of our journey through time! This phrase speaks to just how important it is not to set limits, and to think big! Your time at Carleton is part of your journey, and this experience can be extremely meaningful. Together we will explore opportunities available to Carleton Students through the Student Experience Office, and see how you can make meaning through what you choose to become involved in.

Workshop Outcomes: Students who come to the presentation will be able to identify 5 ways they can get involved at the SEO, and how these experiences translate to what they value most as leaders

Why is this topic important?: Student Leaders have so many opportunities available to them, but sometimes aren’t aware of how meaningful they can be. This session will help make meaning out of the big ways students can get involved

Presentation Breakdown

Timeline: 5 minutes – Introduction to Topic & background of presenters

30 minutes - “The Claw” Game based on Toy Story that will allow students to explore the variety of ways to get involved. Students will take turns palying this game. When a student pulls out an involvement opportunity, small groups will discuss three questions:

1. What is this opportunity?
2. How is it beneficial to me as a leader?
3. What will I learn from being a part of this opportunity?

10 minutes – After all rounds of “The Claw” have happened, the group will participate in a facilitated discussion about different ways that meaningful moments have shaped who they are as leaders.

5 minutes – Questions & Wrap up

Physical Takeaway: Handout of involvement opportunities, dates and deadlines page for upcoming hiring dates
