

Fall/Winter 2021-22 – May 1, 2021 (revised May 13)

Contract Instructor positions in the School of Linguistics and Language Studies (SLaLS)

Pursuant to the CUPE 4600 (Unit 2) Collective Agreement, and subject to budgetary approval, the following courses may be available for Contract Instructors for Fall 2021 and Winter 2022. Please consult the undergraduate calendar on the University website for course descriptions:
calendar.carleton.ca/undergrad/courses

After May 31, the schedule of courses, with specific days and times, will be viewable on the public class schedule: central.carleton.ca/prod/bwysched.p_select_term?wsea_code=EXT

For positions in Linguistics and Applied Linguistics and Discourse Studies the required minimum qualifications are a PhD in an appropriate field (usually Linguistics and Applied Linguistics and/or Discourse Studies, respectively) and some successful university teaching experience related to the appropriate field. A desired qualification is experience in course development, including assessment tools.

For positions in Modern Languages (other than American Sign Language and aboriginal languages – see below), the required minimum qualifications are an MA in an appropriate field (relevant to the language in question); however, a PhD in an appropriate field will normally count as a superior qualification. Given the nature of our programs, a degree specialization in language pedagogy or applied linguistics will normally be considered as more relevant to the position than a degree in literary and/or cultural studies. Some successful university teaching experience is also required, as is native or near-native proficiency in the language. Because our School highly values the in-house generation of curricular content, a desired qualification is experience developing curricular content and assessment tools. For American Sign Language and aboriginal languages, alternative educational achievement and professional experience (including community-based achievements and experience) may be considered.

For positions in ESLA, the required minimum qualification is an MA in an appropriate field (Applied Linguistics or Second Language Education, with a focus on English language pedagogy); however, a PhD in an appropriate field will normally count as a superior qualification. Some successful university teaching experience is also required as is native or near-native proficiency in English. Because our School highly values the in-house generation of curricular content, a desired qualification is experience developing curricular content and assessment tools.

For positions in CCDP, the required minimum qualification is an MA in an appropriate field (Applied Linguistics, Communication, Writing Studies); however, a PhD in an appropriate field will normally count as a superior qualification. Some successful university teaching experience is also required as is native or near-native proficiency in English. Because our School highly values the in-house generation of curricular content, a desired qualification is experience developing curricular content and assessment tools.

Application procedure:

Application packages (a written expression of interest plus curriculum vitae) are to be sent to Dr. David Wood at david.wood@carleton.ca. Due to the high volume of applications, these must be sent electronically as they are filed electronically for processing – hard copy materials will not be considered. In the subject line, please indicate: “Expression of interest: COURSE CODE” (e.g., “Expression of interest: ESLA”; “Expression of interest: LING”; “Expression of interest: ARAB”).

If you are applying for courses under more than one course code, you must send separate messages for each course code, as applications are filed by course code (e.g., ALDS, ARAB, ASLA, CCDP, etc.). For example, if you are applying for both LING and SPAN, you must send two separate messages with relevant application materials.

A note to all applicants: As per Article 15.3 of the current CUPE 4600 Unit 2 Collective Agreement, applicants are required to submit an up to date CV, including a complete listing of all courses taught within the CUPE 4600 Unit 2 bargaining unit at Carleton University. Candidates are also asked to complete a “Contract Instructor Application Form” available at carleton.ca/provost/wp-content/uploads/CI-Application-FINAL.pdf.

Also, as per Articles 16.3 and 16.4 in the CUPE 4600-2 Collective Agreement, the posted vacancies listed below are first offered to applicants meeting the incumbency criterion. A link to the current CUPE 4600-2 Collective Agreement can be found at the Employment Agreements webpage on the Carleton University Human Resources website: Carleton.ca/hr/collective-agreements and the CUPE 4600 Unit 2 website: cupe4600.ca.

The initial deadline for receipt of applications is June 1, 2021.

If public health restrictions allow, the planned mode of delivery for this course will be in person face-to-face lectures. The University may require that all or part of these courses be delivered remotely, including online.
