Course Description:
This course will introduce students to the debates in the public policy literature around the questions of social justice. Students will develop an understanding of how political demands for social justice translate into the policy agendas of public authorities.