ANTH 4620A/5209A [0.5 credit]

Advanced Studies in Contemporary Sub-Saharan Africa: Current Issues in Anthropological Research

Contemporary ethnopolitics in Sub-Saharan Africa (SSA)

This course aims to introduce influential theories of ethnicity; enhance awareness of the social, political, economic, historical, and cultural factors underlying ethnic identity, relations, and tensions in SSA countries; apply students' knowledge to chosen case study.