Email: steven.prus@carleton.ca

Pre-requisites: SOCI 1001 and SOCI 1002, or SOCI 1003 [1.0], or ANTH 1001, or ANTH 1002.

Method of Delivery: Online, Synchronous

Course Schedule: Live lecture and tutorial on Tuesday and Thursday 2:35-5:25pm

Course Description and Objectives:

This course is an introduction to sociological inquiry or the systematic study of human behaviour with social groups, institutions, and society as a whole. It looks at the main stages of the research process, from formulating research questions and hypotheses to data-collection methods to reporting research findings. Topics include the: foundations and nature of social research; relationship between theory and data; techniques for the collection and analysis of quantitative and qualitative data; and research ethics.

The course will prepare students to critically evaluate and carry-out independent social research and for more advanced courses in research methods. The two-hour lecture (per class) is designed to provide a foundational understanding of the research process. The lecture is followed by a one-hour tutorial as needed.

Lectures, tutorials, tests, and office hours will be delivered synchronously (in real-time) through Zoom's video conferencing platform at: <https://zoom.us/j/2288825844>. All lecture material, including lecture notes, will be posted on Brightspace.

Learning Outcomes:

- Generate a research question and plan;
- Explain the relationship between theory and data;
- Understand the nature of quantitative research (e.g., experimental, survey) methods and data analyses;
- Describe research methods (e.g., unstructured, semi-structured interviews) used to collect qualitative data; Assess ethical aspects of a research project.

You may need special arrangements to meet your academic obligations during the term. For an accommodation request, the processes are as follows:

Academic Accommodations:

Carleton is committed to providing academic accessibility for all individuals. You may need special arrangements to meet your academic obligations during the term. The accommodation request processes, including information about the Academic Consideration Policy for Students in Medical and Other Extenuating Circumstances, are outlined on the Academic Accommodations website (students.carleton.ca/course-outline).

Academic Accommodations for Students with Disabilities:

The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact PMC at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation. If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to send your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term, and no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable).

*The deadline for contacting the Paul Menton Centre regarding accommodation for June examinations is June 1, 2025 and August 1, 2025 for August examinations.

For Religious Obligations:

Please contact your instructor with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more details, visit the Equity Services website: www.carleton.ca/equity/wp-content/uploads/Student-Guide-to-Academic-Accommodation.pdf

For Pregnancy:

Please contact your instructor with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. Plagiarism:

Plagiarism is the passing off of someone else's work as your own and is a serious academic offence. For the details of what constitutes plagiarism, the potential penalties and the procedures refer to the section on Instructional Offences in the Undergraduate Calendar. Students are expected to familiarize themselves with and follow the Carleton University Student Academic Integrity Policy (See <https://carleton.ca/registrar/academic-integrity/>). The Policy is strictly enforced and is binding on all students. Academic dishonesty in any form will not be tolerated. Students who infringe the Policy may be subject to one of several penalties.

What are the Penalties for Plagiarism?

A student found to have plagiarized an assignment may be subject to one of several penalties including but not limited to: a grade of zero, a failure or a reduced grade for the piece of academic work; reduction of final grade in the course; completion of a remediation process; resubmission of academic work; withdrawal from course(s); suspension from a program of study; a letter of reprimand.

What are the Procedures?

All allegations of plagiarism are reported to the faculty of Dean of FASS and Management. Documentation is prepared by instructors and departmental chairs. The Dean writes to the student and the University Ombudsperson about the alleged plagiarism. The Dean reviews the allegation. If it is not resolved at this level then it is referred to a tribunal appointed by the Senate.

Assistance for Students:

Mental Health: As a student you may experience a range of mental health challenges that significantly impact your academic success and overall well-being. If you need help, please speak to someone.
