Teaching and Learning News

Top Stories

Prepare for the Winter Term With the Students as Partners Program

Applications for the Students as Partners Program (SaPP) are now open to help Carleton instructors prepare their courses for the winter term.

Fully funded by Teaching and Learning Services, SaPP offers instructors and learning support staff the opportunity to involve undergraduate students in teaching innovation and curriculum design through paid work experience. Students can partner on a variety of projects to help you prepare for your upcoming courses, including:

- Helping design course materials, such as assessments or your Brightspace course site
- Reviewing and providing feedback on assessments, PowerPoint slides or your syllabus
- Finding resources or multimedia

The program will run until the end of the fall 2022 term, with students working up to 130 hours. The deadline to apply is Monday, Oct. 17. Find out more about the program and application process here.

In this issue

- Prepare for the Winter Term With the Students as Partners Program
- Upcoming Professional Development Opportunities
- Congratulations to Our Teaching Award Winners
- Building Presence in Online Classrooms
- Achievement Award Applications Now Open
- Reminder: Carleton University Experiential Learning Fund Call for Applications
- Inclusion Week: October 17 to 21

Events

Brightspace Support Hour
Oct. 11, 10 to 11 a.m.
Oct. 27, 1 to 2 p.m.

CDF Workshop: Designing Learning Experiences from Scratch
Oct. 18, 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Brightspace Community of

If you have any questions, please email tls@carleton.ca.

Upcoming Professional Development Opportunities

Teaching and Learning Services is pleased to provide a number of professional development opportunities to help you enhance your skills. Our events calendar has been updated for the rest of the term, with sessions including Course Design Fundamentals, Digital Storytelling and Learning Analytics, as well as a wealth of educational technology workshops and communities of practice. Browse the complete list of upcoming events and register here.

Congratulations to Our Teaching Award Winners

Please join us in congratulating the nine outstanding educators who have been named 2022 Carleton University Teaching Award winners!

Provost's Fellowship in Teaching Award

- Jeffrey Erochko (Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering)
- Marylynn Steckley (Arthur Kroeger College of Public Affairs)
- Jesse Stewart (School for Studies in Art and Culture: Music)

New Faculty Excellence in Teaching Award

- Beth Martin (School of Social Work)
- Zachary Patterson (Department of Neuroscience)
- Shoeleh Shams (Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering)

Excellence in Blended and Online Teaching Award

- Andrew Crosby (Department of Sociology and Anthropology)
- Michael Follert (Department of Sociology and Anthropology)

Excellence in Learning Support Award

- Trinda Crippin (Department of Chemistry)

Practice
Oct. 18, 2 to 3:30 p.m.

CDF Workshop: Learning Outcomes: Blueprints for Course Design
Oct. 20, 10 to 11:30 a.m.

CDF Workshop: Assessment Fundamentals
Oct. 25, 1 to 2:30 p.m.

Power Up Your Grading
Oct. 25, 10 to 11:30 a.m.

Digital Storytelling
Oct. 27, 10 to 11:30 a.m.

CDF Workshop: Learning Effectively With Multimedia Instruction
Oct. 27, 1:30 to 3 p.m.

cuPortfolio Community of Practice
Nov. 1, 10 to 11 a.m.

CDF Workshop: Incorporating Effective Online Activities and Communication Strategies into Your Course
Nov. 3, 1:30 to 3 p.m.

Building Presence in Online Classrooms

Curious how to be present and build community in online courses? Read this month's blog posts from Tracy Hodgson-Drysdale to discover how you can provide students with a better learning experience, while also increasing your own satisfaction with a job well done:

- How Can I Be Present in an Asynchronous Classroom
- A Profile Picture is Worth a Thousand Words (to our students!)

Achievement Award Applications Now Open

Applications are open for the 2023 Achievement Awards, which recognize faculty, instructors, librarians and contract instructors for their accomplishments and dedication to excellence in research and teaching. Applications for the Teaching Achievement Award and Research Achievement Award close Oct. 31. Applications for the Professional Achievement Award and Contract Instructor Award close Nov. 20.

Reminder: Carleton University Experiential Learning Fund Call for Applications

Interested in developing course or program-level initiatives with experiential learning components? Applications for the Carleton University Experiential Learning Fund (CUELF) are now open for the 2022-23 academic year. Two rounds of funding are available. Applications are due Oct. 21, 2022 for the first competition and Jan. 20, 2023 for the second competition.

Inclusion Week: October 17 to 21

Save the date! Join the Department of Equity and Inclusive Communities for the fourth annual Inclusion Week from October 17 to 21. The goal of Inclusion Week is to raise visibility and awareness of the value of human rights work and EDI, explore practical ways to integrate its principles into our organizational structures and culture, and strengthen the potential for prosperity in the community. This year's theme is Disrupting Cultures of Inequity: Engaging in Brave Actions and Making Meaningful Change. Stay tuned for updates on the Equity and Inclusive Communities website.

updates on the Equity and Inclusive Communities website.