Contract Instructor Opportunities for Summer 2019

Applications are invited from Feminist Scholars who are members of the CUPE 4600 bargaining unit and other interested persons to teach the following Women’s & Gender Studies course during the Summer 2019 academic term. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in Women’s and Gender Studies or a related discipline and have expertise (research/education/work background) in the specific course topic.

For all courses, we are asking applicants to submit their CVs, previous teaching scores, a statement of feminist scholarship, and a two-page outline of key topics, key theoretical and/or substantive sources that frame the course. We expect that textbooks would only be used at the 1st and 2nd year level and that upper level courses would be more reliant on collected readings/journal articles.

Please submit your comprehensive curriculum vitae with respect to this competition by January 11, 2018 to:

Full Summer:

WGST 1808 [1.0 credit] Introduction to Women's and Gender Studies
Overview of the major issues in women's and gender studies. Topics include the social construction of femininity and masculinity, violence, sexuality, representations of women, the treatment of women in the workplace and in education, women and the arts, and women's health.
Offered May- August, Mon and Wed, 18:05-20:55

Early Summer:

WGST 2800 [0.5 credit] Intersectional Identities
Critical examination of the multiple intersections between gender, as a relation of power and social identity, as these intersect with (neo)colonialism, racism, poverty, ableism and heterosexism in a globalized world.
Offered May-June, Tues and Thurs, 18:05-20:55

WGST 3812 [0.5 credit] Selected Topics in Women's and Gender Studies:
Pornography
This course draws on inter/disciplinary scholarship and employs intersectional analysis to explore historical and contemporary debates concerning the production and consumption of pornography. Topics may include censorship debates, the ‘sex wars’, porn and the politics of representation, and feminist porn.
Offered May-June, Mon and Wed, 18:05-20:55
Late Summer:

WGST 2801 [0.5 credit]: Activism, Feminisms, and Social Justice
A comparative, interdisciplinary examination of feminist activism in the modern era. A range of perspectives and materials are used to examine the objectives, scope, and impact of feminists' efforts to effect social and political change in different historical, cultural, and national settings. Offered July-August, Tues and Thurs, 18:05-20:55

WGST 4812 [0.5 credit]: Selected Topics in Women’s and Gender Studies: Decolonizing Feminisms
The course focuses on contemporary and historical forms of colonization, occupation, and imperialism and their complex relationship with feminism. How have various kinds of feminisms been implicated in, complicit with, and resistant to colonial projects? How do we decolonize feminist knowledges and practices? This course explores the connections between theory, activism, and policy-making in relation to decolonial feminist thinking, writing, and activist engagement. Offered July-August, Mon and Wed, 18:05-20:55

Please note:
(a) Assignment of courses to regular faculty members have not yet been finalized and hence the list of courses to be offered to CIs is subject to change.
(b) Some courses may be taught by employees who have the right to automatic reappointment.
(c) All positions are subject to budgetary approval. Advertisement is not a guarantee that a course will be offered.
